

Saturday afternoon: Schmelzboden, Davos-Monstein that's where your ancestor Johannes Hitz worked and lost his money...

You can visit the mining museum and be shown around by

OTTTO HIRZEL:
German

WALTER FREY:
English

Freunde des Bergbaus in Graubünden

Friends of mining in Grison

Without their voluntary work we would not be able to visit the museums in Davos-Monstein (Silberberg) or in Val S-charl, where the family was active. They also reopened mines that can be visited — at both locations.

Without them, nobody would probably remember Johannes Hitz...

THANK YOU!

Sunday Afternoon A: walk along Railwaytrack Preda-Bergün

The RhB railway from Filisur to Preda is one of the most interesting in the alps — so a historic „show-path“ and a little railwaymuseum in Bergün were built for railway-fans from all over the world.

Hitz engineers were involved in building several railwaylines in the region (and elsewhere in Europe!).

The „Landwasserviadukt“ is simply fantastic — but you will not see it, unless you also travel by train from Filisur to Tiefencastel

How to get there and back:

Public transport: train in direction of FILISUR leaves 13.25. Change in Filisur (13.55) to train in direction of St.Moritz leaving Filisur 13.59. Alight 14.29 in PREDA.

Get (return) ticket in Davos!

Walk from Preda to Bergün: Good shoes are needed for the downhill walk along the historic railway footpath.

Trains leave Bergün for Filisur:

16.47,17.47, 18.47,19.47

By Car: Drive to Bergün; cars can be left at there. The train leaves Bergün at 14.12 for Preda (and on to St. Moritz) to join the others.

Sunday Afternoon

B:

visit Mining Musuem
in S-charl (side-valley
of Lower Engadine, near Scuol/Schuls)

In the 19th century, the Hitz family was also involved in the silver-mining (and money-loosing) in this wild, remote valley, where mining was already going on in the 16th century.

The very small, romantic village is now only occupied in summer and features several small hotels and restaurants.

How to get there and back:

Public transport: 12.02 train in direction of Landquart. Change at Klosters-Platz at 12.28; leave 12.33 on train for Scuol/Schuls(arr. 14.18); change to yellow Postbus leaving for S-charl immediately

Buses leave S-charl 16.50 and 17.50

Trains leave Scuol for Klosters immediately

It may be wise to order a packed lunch from the hotel or get a sandwich from a nearby Coop-shop.

Ask for a ticket (from Klosters, if you have a Davos Guest Card) to S-charl and back — or wherever you intend to spend the Sunday night.

By car: drive via Klosters (car in train at Selfranga, through VEREINA-tunnel) or via Flüela Pass to Schuls/Scuol >> S-charl

Anytime: side-valley

Sertig

Walk to waterfall,
marvel at the flora,
have a drink/meal,
enjoy!

How to get there and back:

Public transport: 20 Minutes with yellow Postbus from Railwaystation Davos-Platz at xx.00 (except 13.00 or 14.00)

Bus leaves Sertig at xx.30 except at 14.30

Cost (return ticket with Davos guest-card from Clavadel? —check)
ca. SFr 15.-

Private Car: just follow signs. Large Restaurant at end of public road.
